

CREATIVE COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

Creative Community Leadership Institute (CCLI) is an intensive, in-person, cohort-based training program with real-world practice for artists, culture bearers, community organizers, community development practitioners, and other leaders seeking to deepen their impact in creative community building. In 2020, CCLI will host three cohorts, one each in St. Cloud, MN; Fargo, ND; and Rapid City, SD. Each cohort will meet for three weekends during the year:

- St. Cloud, MN: May 15-17; July 17-19; October 9-11
- Fargo, ND: May 29-31; July 31-August 2; September 25-27
- Rapid City, SD: June 12-14; August 21-23; October 16-18 – Limited to enrolled tribal members and non-Native participants who live or work directly in Native communities.

This program is free for participants. Applications for all three cohorts are due March 9, 2020. See the website for more information, funding, and applications.

www.creativecommunityinstitute.org

CCLI is co-led by Plains Art Museum (Fargo, ND), Racing Magpie (Rapid City, SD), and Springboard for the Arts (St. Paul and Fergus Falls, MN). CCLI is made possible through generous support from the Bush Foundation.

BUSH
FOUNDATION